

Local Workforce Development Center Certification (2019-2021)

Under WIOA, local workforce boards are responsible for certifying their American Job Centers every two years and have submitted documentation of compliance with state policy (issued May 21, 2019). Local areas have completed local policy updates, certification process through evaluation teams and local board approval of center certification decisions. OOWD has reviewed the documentation submitted and makes the following recommendations for GCWED approval.
